

The staff spotlight is shining on Kyle Aguirre! Kyle joined our team in the beginning of the year and has been a huge part of our growth here in the Kansas City area.

Kyle was born and raised in the Kansas City area for his entire life. He went to school in Liberty, MO and really focused on growth in no matter what he did. Being the youngest in a family of four, Kyle felt that he really needed to prove his success to the rest of the family and it was in high school where he found a great mentor to help him be successful. They told him, "People will give up on you only when you give up on yourself." Those words stuck with him and have been a driving factor for success throughout his life.

Driven by mentorship and growth, he was part of multiple careers ranging from insurance to working tradeshow, but he didn't feel right in any of those positions. That is when his hunt brought him to High Stakes Management. When asked why he chose High Stakes Management as a vehicle for his success, he said, "I wanted a place to grow and thrive. High Stakes Management has some of the best business mentors in their industry and I truly feel like I can build a future here. I am excited for what the future has to hold!"

We are excited to see what Kyle will accomplish within our company! Thank you, Kyle, for being such a great asset to us and our clients. 2021 is going to be one awesome year for you!
